

culturetv new media blog

YOUR CULTURETV BLOG ON GLOBAL ART NEWS, VIDEOS, MUSEUM, GALLERY, PICKS & TIPS

sunday, june 03, 2007

Cellphonia: WET

CALL NOW +1 212-937-7725

and add you voice to the pool

Cellphonia: WET is a cellphone interactive sound/video installation. Visitors will experience a 6-minute 5-song looping vocals of naiads lamenting the loss of the world's fresh water with projected video accompaniment.

Comments:

- Cellphonia: WET will re-use technology and deployment methods from the premiere of Cellphonia: San Jose, a karaoke cellphone opera, at the ISEA Zero One, August 2006 receiving a favorable review in the New York Times.
 - Cellphonia: WET will reuse portions of the libretto from WET, an opera, that premiered at the Disney REDCAT theatre in 2005 with favorable reviews in the Los Angeles Times.
 - Cellphonia: WET will use video footage prepared during a Rockefeller Bellagio retreat.

previous posts

"404 FESTIVAL - ON TOUR / EUROPE 2007"

TOURING SHOW

New Directions from China from 05/06/07 to 06/17/0...

EMAF 2007 exhibition until 20.05, Osnabruck (D)

THE ART WORLD IS FLAT 26.-28.04 Jay Pritzker Pavil...

Digimag 23

Word of Fire by Santiago Sierra

Opening LABoral Centre 30.03 Gyon, Spain

EMAF 25.-29.04 Osnaebruck

An Evening with Takuji Kogo 27.02. MoMA

- Cellphonia was awarded a NYSCA grant in 2006. .

Installation Description

1. One audio capable computer connected to internet to stream audio from Cellphonia web site.
2. Public address system with loud speaker volume level set to be heard by several visitors.
3. One video projector and screen or large video monitor to display water video from a DVD player.
4. A poster to inform visitors to call Cellphonia telephone number and add their own voices to the installation vocals.
5. Installation should be located so a visitor can use his cellphone to easily make a phone call.

posted by culturetv blog at 12:09 pm

0 comments:

Post a Comment

<< Home